Agreement Near On Compromise To Settle Korean War

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (P)—The Western Allies moved closer to agreement today on changes they hoped would bring full support—including that of the U. S.—behind India's compromise plan for ending the Korean War prisoner deadlock.

An eighteen-nation group headed by the U. S., Britain and France planned to meet behind closed doors in the U. N. this morning to work over amendments to a plan submitted Wednesday by India's V. K. Krishna Menon. Other nations in the group are Canada, Australia, Turkey, Denmark and Colombia.

Eden Suggests Changes

They have as a working basis changes suggested yesterday by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who said the Indian plan brings the U. N. nearer to agreement on the one outstanding issue holding up an armistice in Korea—the prisoner of war problem.

Strong American objections to the original Indian resolution—that it was ambiguous and would not work—had threatened a serious split among the 21 allies backing a U. S.-drafted Korean resolution which the Soviet bloc in the U. N. already has rejected.

Nothing From Russia

The Americans reportedly insist that Menon's resolution be clarified before they can accept it. The resolution calls for a four-nation commission, with an umpire to settle deadlocks, to handle the repatriation of all war prisoners and take care of those who don't want to return to Red-ruled homes until a political conference decides their fate.

The U. S. reservations apparently have been ironed out to some degree in private talks among the Allies.

Eden's endorsement in the General Assembly's Political Committee yesterday of the plan's general outline, and his suggestions for alterations to clarify its main points, brought the American comment that "we are moving closer and closer to a settlement."

Although the Indians have said they would not have introduced their resolution without reasonable assurance that both Communist and Western nations would accept it, there still was no reaction from the Russians.

Leper Sentenced In Fatal Knifing

CARVILLE, La. (P)—A 35-year-old male victim of Hansen's Disease (leprosy) was sentenced yesterday to three years imprisonment for manslaughter in the fatal stabbing of a woman patient in her private room.

Sidney J. Gallardo entered a plea of guilty before U. S. District Judge Herbert Christenberry. The hearing was held in an auditorium at the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital where both were patients.

Gallardo and Candelaria Hernandez, 38, were found in the woman's private room Aug. 30 suffering with stab wounds.

Federal authorities did not disclose any details of the slaying at the time.

Gallardo's sentence poses a problem for federal authorities. Hansen's disease patients are prohibited by federal law from leaving the hospital area.

The institution is the only hospital for treatment of leprosy in the United States.

A small jail cell is located on the hospital grounds. It was built in 1927 when a Negro was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment in the slaying of another patient. The Hernandez slaying was the second in the hospital's history.

The Negro served nine of his 10 years before dying of the disease.

Carville is located in an isolated section of Louisiana on the Mississippi River about 20 miles south of Baton Rouge, the capital city.

About 400 patients are in the hospital, which was opened by the state in 1894 and taken over by the federal government in 1921.

Excavating Machine Kills Former Mayor

DETROIT (P)—Everett Bangham, 72, former mayor of Royal Oak, and a veteran Oakland County public servant, was crushed to death yesterday by an excavating machine.

Bangham was killed while carrying out his duties as a surveyor for the Oakland County Road Commission. He was supervising the installation of gas mains when the accident occurred.

Bangham was struck by the boom of the excavating machine, then crushed beneath the tread of the vehicle.

Townships Liable

LANSING (P)—An attorney general's opinion held today that townships are liable for injuries caused by failure to repair sidewalks on a county road in an unincorporated village. The opinion was asked by Prosecutor George R. Campbell of Jackson.

Dulles May Create New Super Council To Guide Cold War

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (P)—Creation of a super council in the Eisenhower administration to mastermind a cold war offensive against the Kremlin seemed assured today by the announcement that John Foster Dulles will be the next secretary of state.

Dulles, like President-elect Eisenhower who announced his selection for the post yesterday, has made clear that his first major new goal in foreign policy will be to wrest the initiative in the global conflict from Russia.

Opens Office Soon

Dulles has declared that one way to go about this is to set up a cabinet council, including not only some regular cabinet members but also "ministers without portfolio" charged only with high-level cold war planning.

Word that the veteran diplomat, recently a Truman ambassador in the negotiation of the Japanese Peace Treaty, would get the number one cabinet post next Jan. 20 was generally well received by State Department officials here despite some bitterness toward him resulting from his attacks on Truman foreign policies during the presidential campaign.

Unless he goes to Korea with Eisenhower soon—which Dulles has indicated he will not do—these officials expect he will shortly open an office near that of Secretary of State Acheson.

Has The Experience

They believe Dulles will readily accommodate himself to the work of the department and that because of his experience in the field the transfer of control will be smoother than it would have been with almost any other successor.

There is hope here that Dulles will be able to advise informally on and observe decisions which must be made by the present administration in the next two months. Such aid could assist in keeping decisions in line with the aims of the new administration.

Harlow Curtice New GM Boss

DETROIT (P)—Harlow H. Curtice, 59-year-old executive vice president of General Motors Corp., will take over as acting president of the huge automobile firm Dec. 1. That is the date GM President C. E. Wilson leaves to await confirmation of his appointment as secretary of defense.

Wilson, who will start a two months leave of absence from his GM duties Dec. 1, announced Curtice's appointment yesterday at a press conference following his nomination for the cabinet post by President-elect Dwight Eisenhower.

Curtice, a native of Eaton Rapids, Mich., joined the General Motors A. C. Spark Plug division in 1914 as an accountant and rose to president of the division in 1929. Curtice transferred to GM's Buick division in 1933 as general manager. He was appointed a vice president in 1940 and became an executive vice president of the corporation in 1948.

He served as Wilson's assistant in charge of general staff affairs and of GM's parts division.

Curtice, his wife, and three daughters live in Flint.

Death Summons AFL President

WASHINGTON (P)—William Green, president of the AFL, died today at his home in Coshocton, O., the AFL announced.

Green was 81. An AFL official said Green died of a heart attack at 1:22 p. m. It was the second death of a major labor leader within a month. Philip Murray, head of the rival CIO, collapsed and died at San Francisco Nov. 9.

President-Elect Loses No Time Filling Top Jobs

NEW YORK (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today designated George M. Humphrey, of Cleveland, Ohio, secretary of the treasury. He named Herbert Brownell, Jr., of New York, attorney general, and Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, director of the Mutual Security Agency.

Brownell, New York lawyer, was a leader of Eisenhower's campaign for the GOP nomination, and he directed strategy in the election campaign.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (P)—President-elect Eisenhower's choice of three pre-convention supporters for cabinet posts left Taft Republicans wondering today if they are going to share in the new administration's top jobs.

Eisenhower has six more cabinet places to fill, plus a half dozen or more jobs of almost equal rank, and backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft will be watching the President-elect's action closely.

Three Key Men

Taft's friends found little to cheer about when Eisenhower announced yesterday his choice of John Foster Dulles of New York for secretary of state; Charles E. Wilson of Detroit, General Motors president, for secretary of defense; and Gov. Douglas McKay of Oregon for secretary of the interior.

All were early supporters of Eisenhower in his successful battle with Taft for the presidential nomination.

Dulles preserved outward neutrality until July 11—the day Eisenhower won the nomination at the Chicago convention—because the New Yorker had drafted a

Famous Niagara To Get Face-Lift

TORONTO, Ont. (P)—A joint U. S.-Canadian commission proposes to give Niagara Falls a face-lifting. It wants the famous waterfall to look more beautiful with less water.

Details of the project were disclosed yesterday to Canadian and U. S. parks and power officials by the International Joint Commission. The plans will be submitted to the two governments. If approved quickly, work could be started early next year and completed in 1956.

The commission's plans, developed after two years study by engineers, call for a control dam 1,550 feet long built from the Canadian side a mile above the falls. They also propose dredging the Niagara river bottom just above the brink of the horseshoe falls.

The commission claims the project would reduce the present speed with which the river is eating away the brink of the falls and would make possible two vantage points on each tip of the horseshoe from which an unobstructed view of the falls could be obtained. No estimate of the cost was announced.

Wilson Faces Tough Task As Defense Chief

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (P)—Charles Edwin Wilson's comment about giving the defense secretary job the "darndest whirl it ever had" can work both ways.

The job has given four men a whirl in the last four years. Wilson was named yesterday as President-elect Eisenhower's selection as the next secretary of defense. That the president of General Motors faces a tough assignment is shown by the fact that:

Second One Fired

The first secretary resigned and, broken by the immense burden of his job, committed suicide.

The second one was fired.

The third one, a soldier by profession, dutifully served out his assignment for a year, then resigned.

The present one let it be known some months ago, before he knew the election would bring a change in administration, that he intended to leave government. He now says he is more anxious than ever, as he puts it, to go back as rapidly as possible to what he hopes will be moderately prosperous obscurity.

Even the gigantic General Motors Corp., which Wilson heads and which, at Eisenhower's request he is leaving to come to Washington, is dwarfed by the proportions of the business he will manage as defense chief.

Big Cut In Salary

There is a noteworthy aspect to Wilson's job change: A much bigger job produces a much smaller pay check. The general impression is that his 1951 salary and bonuses totaled about $626,300. He'll get $22,500 from the federal government—and no bonus.

Of all the executive agencies of government, the Defense Department is the largest, the costliest, the most complex, the most technical. Its responsibilities can be grave. Decisions made by a de-

Gov. Byrnes Wants No Federal Appointment

COLUMBIA, S. C. (P)—Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina says he would "under no circumstances accept any appointment" in the federal government.

Byrnes made the statement to a news conference yesterday in answer to reports he might get a cabinet post under Republican President-elect Eisenhower. Byrnes, a Democrat, was an Eisenhower supporter during the presidential campaign.

The governor said he had not been asked by Gen. Eisenhower to accept any cabinet appointment. He told the conference he planned to finish his four-year term as governor in accordance with a promise made to the people of South Carolina when he was elected.

Attacks Of Fanatical Chinese Smashed On Frozen Korea Fronts

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SEOUL (P)—Allied infantrymen smashed a fanatical Chinese assault today on Sniper Ridge — on the Central Korean Front — and stopped lesser attacks elsewhere on the battle line.

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman told correspondents: "No ground was lost."

He said an estimated 750 Chinese stormed the frozen, forbidding slopes of Sniper Ridge but were killed, wounded or driven back by stubborn South Korean troops who have lost and retaken the height 16 times in 38 days.

Some of the fighting was hand-to-hand.

A Red battalion slammed against Pinpoint Hill, the dominating ground of Sniper Ridge last night. The Communists supported their assaults with a tremendous barrage of mortar and artillery.

Within an hour, one company of Chinese pulled out and left two companies to push ahead. But by 10 p. m. the drive was blunted.

The Allied spokesman said four Communist armored vehicles, probably tanks, rained 50 caliber machine gun fire on ROK positions on Sniper just before midnight.

Allied artillery drove off the vehicles.

It was cold — 10 degrees above zero.

Both sides kept up a crackling exchange of gunfire, and early this morning a suicide platoon of Chinese charged Sniper Ridge, hurling hand grenades when they got near the ROK foxholes. But the South Koreans held their ground and shortly after dawn the Chinese pulled out.

Living Costs Gain; Auto Wage Shaved

WASHINGTON (P)—The government reported today that living costs went up fractionally in the 30 days ended Oct. 15. Its index inched up one-tenth of one point.

The little change from Sept. 15 means that about one million workers in the automobile and aircraft industries will take a pay cut of one cent an hour effective Dec. 1.

'Dryest Of Drys' Dies In California

GLENDALE, Calif. (P)—William D. Upshaw, 86, author, lecturer and preacher who as a congressman won the sobriquet "dryest of the drys," died today.

He went to Congress in 1919 from Georgia as a Democrat and served eight years. In 1932 he polled 80,000 votes as the Prohibition party's presidential candidate.

For years a lecturer in schools and churches on the "evils of liquor," he became an ordained Baptist minister at 72 and continued his attack on alcohol from the pulpit on mission tours.

Gross Indecency Charge Dropped In Three Cases

Three of four local men, originally charged with gross indecency with a male person, yesterday afternoon in Justice A. T. Sohlberg's court at Gladstone pleaded guilty to disorderly counts and were fined and placed on three months probation.

The gross indecency charges against the three will be dismissed upon motion of Prosecuting Attorney J. Clyde McGonagle, said Justice Sohlberg.

The three who yesterday pleaded guilty to charges in each instance of "a disorderly person having then and there engaged in an unlawful occupation," are as follows:

Richard Steede Jr., 24, Escanaba Rte. 1; Russell Faber, 32, Escanaba; and William V. Johnston, 27, Gladstone.

Official "No Comment"

Complaints against the three on the "disorderly person" then and there engaged in an unlawful occupation" charge were signed by Glen S. Leonard, Escanaba city safety director.

"No comment" was the reply of Safety Director Leonard when asked to specify the "unlawful occupation" to which the three pleaded guilty. The "no comment" reply was given after Leonard conferred with State Police of the Gladstone detachment and with Prosecutor McGonagle.

The guilty pleas for the three were entered in Justice Sohlberg's court yesterday by their legal counsel. Faber and Steede were represented by Atty. Robert E. LeMire and Johnston by Atty. Harlan J. Yelland of Escanaba.

Priester On Bond

Faber and Johnston each were fined $100 and paid costs of $4.30. Steede was fined $50 and paid costs of $4.30. All three were placed on three months probation.

Originally the three and Clinton Priester, 53, of Escanaba, were arrested and held in county jail prior to their appearance in Justice Sohlberg's court Nov. 4 on charges of gross indecency. The warrants were issued on complaints signed by Safety Director Leonard and Trooper Michael J. Lalich of the Gladstone detachment, Michigan State Police.

On Nov. 4 the four were released under $1,000 bond each pending arraignment that was tentatively scheduled for Nov. 20 before Justice Sohlberg. Priester has not yet been arraigned.

Dial Phones For Marquette Planned

MARQUETTE — Looking toward inauguration of dial telephone service here in 1954, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company has begun the installation of dial instruments in local homes and offices, John C. Gerling, manager here for the company said today.

For the present, dial instruments will be limited largely to installations for new customers, Gerling said. All other instruments will be changed on a regular programmed basis as the time for the complete changeover to the dial system draws nearer.

Until the new system is placed in service, dial instruments will operate on a manual basis—just like all other telephones in the community.

The first dial instrument to be installed here was placed in the residence of Mr. Kenneth LaBelle, 436 West Bluff Street.

Canada Gets Traffic Cops From Britain

EDMONTON, Canada (AP) — A shortage of traffic cops has made the mayor of this city seek police help thousands of miles away. Last March 13 Scotch policemen were recruited and now 25 more from North Ireland have been signed.

Mayor William Hawrelak says difficulty in finding suitable men in Canada for the force has compelled the city to seek applicants from the British Isles.

All the Irish policemen are members of the Royal Irish Constabulary at Belfast. They have three or more years of police experience and were selected from among 102 applicants who answered Belfast advertisements.

Chest Drive Within $1,700 Of Its Goal

With collections still being made in Escanaba, Gladstone and five of the 14 townships, the Delta County Community Chest campaign total this morning stood at $18,326.44 against a quota of $20,000, only nine per cent short of the goal to finance the work of six health and welfare agencies in 1953.

The residential campaign in Gladstone is just getting underway, Wallace Cameron, Gladstone city chairman, reported to the county drive headquarters here yesterday.

Vic Borge, of Garden, and Walter Peters, of Rapid River, who have been in charge of the township campaigns, report that the work is still not completed in Bark River, Escanaba, Wells, Masonville and Bay de Noc townships.

Laud Township Workers

Escanaba is over its quota by a small amount. Gladstone hopes to raise $800 in the residential drive and elsewhere to reach its quota of $4,500, and residents of the five townships named above must contribute $1,200 if the 14 townships of the county are to reach their goal of $3,000.

"The job of collecting throughout the townships represents quite a problem," Dr. A. A. Gossan, county chairman, commented this morning. "Workers there have to travel several miles to make their calls. The Delta County Community Chest Council and the 1952 campaign chairmen deeply appreciate the work being done in the townships."

In addition to those already cited, the county chairman paid tribute yesterday to the work of Mrs. Henry Lundberg in Ensign township, Bertha Johnson in Bay de Noc, Robert Richards in Baldwin and Mrs. Augie Lundgaard in Cornell.

Still Collecting

Some industries and some unions in the area have not yet made contributions but are expected to do so within the next few days. The committee in charge of collections from clubs and civic, service and fraternal organizations reports its work only partially complete.

Recent contributions reported by this committee were received from the Daughters of Isabella, American Legion Auxiliary, Disabled Veterans, Newcomers, Eagles, PEO Sisterhood, United Commercial Travelers, Orpheus Club, Eagles Auxiliary and the Elks Club.

Officers of organizations which have not yet made contributions are reminded that check may be mailed directly to the Community Chest headquarters, 1515 Ludington Street, Escanaba.

"Since a house-to-house canvass is not being held in Escanaba this year, it is possible that some residents have not yet been called upon for contributions to the 1953 Community Chest," Dr. Gossan said.

Send Checks By Mail

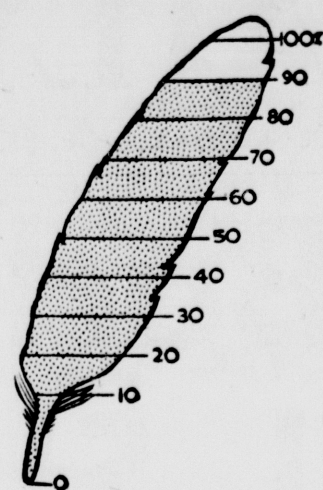

"It has been the experience of campaign workers in the past that some residents say they would be glad to make a contribution if called upon in person. If we have failed to do that in some instances this year, we apologize and express the hope that anyone missed will bring or send his contribution to the Chest Headquarters at 1515 Ludington Street.

"The office is located directly opposite the Junior High School and is clearly marked with a large Red Feather sign in the display window. Anyone desiring to have his or her contribution picked up may do so by telephoning 3722."

Division contributions to date and respective quotas follow:

	Collected	Quota
Escanaba	$12,805.04	$12,500.00
Gladstone	3,700.17	4,500.00
Townships	1,821.23	3,000.00

Any amount received over a quota, it was pointed out, is deposited in a Community Chest contingency or emergency fund.

REACHING GOAL—The presidential election and deer hunting season notwithstanding, the Delta County Community Chest campaign is still progressing toward its goal of $20,000. As of this morning, $18,326.44, or 91 per cent of the quota, had been collected, the Chest Council reports.

Borrow Funds To Run Schools

Escanaba public schools, which did not receive a $100,000 advance on state aid money this year, have borrowed $35,000 from the Catherine Bonifas school fund to meet current operating costs, Supt. John Lemmer said today.

It is not anticipated that schools here will be forced to close due to lack of revenue, Supt. Lemmer said. He indicated that he felt the state would grant permission for schools to borrow against state aid moneys allocated to them.

Auditor General John B. Martin yesterday said in Lansing that Michigan public schools would have to close within the next six months unless they can get additional borrowing power.

Martin indicated that because of a general fund deficit, the state would be able to pay only a third of the school aid money in the next six months. Three payments of $32 million dollars are supposed to be made by the state in the next five months, he said.

To obtain money on loans, schools must receive permission from the State Finance Commission. The borrowing of money by Escanaba schools from the Bonifas fund was legal, the commission advised school officials here earlier.

Escanaba schools have received all of the primary school interest fund, totaling $96,130.89 this year, $25,000 from state aid and $26,000 from sales tax diversion.

In January, when current taxes become due, additional moneys will be available to the Escanaba system. Hundred per cent collection of local taxes would provide schools here with $102,000.

State aid funds totaling $190,000 and sales tax revenue totaling $80,000 are yet to be received.

Public schools here have a total operating budget of $645,000 this year, of which $43,000 is paid every two weeks in meeting the school's payroll.

Oconto Man Ticketed After Collision With Bus Near Brampton

GLADSTONE — Michigan State Police yesterday ticketed Elmer P. Schmit of Oconto, Wis., after his car struck the back of the Brampton township school bus as he attempted to pass it on M-35 near Brampton.

The ticket charged him with excessive speed or failing to stop in the assured clear distance ahead. Time of the accident was 4:30 p. m. Thursday.

State Police reported that Schmit apparently attempted to pass the bus on the left as it turned left on a road going into the Berg farm near Brampton. Schmit then turned his car to pass on the right and ran into the bus. The driver of the bus, Clyde Benson, told police his signal light was operating for the turn. Schmit claimed that he did not see the signal.

Neither Schmit nor any of the six pupils riding the bus was injured.

Await Opinion In Hayes Case

City Attorney Denis McGinn last night informed the Escanaba City Council that a nine-page opinion relative to the authority of the city to vacate public property in connection with a vacation petition filed by Harold C. Hayes will be ready within a few days.

Hayes has asked the City Council to vacate that portion of the Ludington street sidewalk under a marquee at the House of Ludington entrance.

In an informal opinion the city attorney advised the Council that he believes the city does not have the legal right to vacate city property for the benefit of private interest. The Council asked for the opinion in writing.

Fire Insurance Question
Meanwhile the Council, in response to a question from City Manager A. V. Aronson, agreed that no action against Hayes for removal of brickwork enclosing the marquee will be taken until the opinion is received from the city attorney and considered at a next meeting of the Council.

In another opinion on the subject of the city's purchase of fire insurance coverage without taking bids, the city attorney last night reported in writing that he had found nothing in the charter and ordinance making it necessary to take bids in purchasing fire insurance.

The Escanaba Insurance Agents Association in recent special meeting with the Council contended that insurance is a service and not a commodity.

Want Street Opened
Robert F. Schmit, representing Employers Mutual Insurance company, who was described as not a member of the Insurance Agents Association, briefly discussed with the Council its present program of fire insurance coverage, which he said was in some instances "quite inadequate." He was invited to confer further with the city manager and the city controller.

In other business last night the Council:
Hearing no objections to the extension of a sanitary sewer on Eighth Avenue South from 19th to 23rd Streets set the date of Dec. 4 for a hearing on special assessments.

Received a petition signed by 39 property owners and residents for the city to open 16th Avenue North at Washington Avenue. Action was delayed pending an inquiry to the State Highway Department by the city manager.
Appointed Councilman Wesley Hansen to the Recreation Board to fill the vacancy created by the death of S. R. Wickman.

Escanaba Council Orders City-Wide Zoning Survey

A house-to-house survey to determine non-conformity to the Escanaba zoning ordinance will be made on recommendation of the Planning Commission, the City Council decided in meeting last night.

Mayor Robert E. LeMire said the survey will establish the extent of "inconsistencies" in the city, particularly in the Class A residential zones.
City Manager A. V. Aronson told the Council the cost of the survey would be approximately $1,500. The Council authorized the expenditure of that sum, assuring that the survey will be made.

Ordinance of 1929
In the past the Council and the Planning Commission have discussed the advisability of such a survey to establish a "starting point" for enforcement of the zoning ordinance in relationship to non-conforming uses.

The zoning ordinance was adopted in 1929 and for many years there was little if any enforcement and less public interest in zoning. The growing problem of enforcement under the ordinance brought a recommendation by City Manager A. V. Aronson that a survey be made to give a complete picture of all existing non-conforming uses.

In other business the Council received from the Planning Commission a recommendation that no change be made in the present trailer ordinance; and gave first reading to an ordinance regarding a precise plat for the area from Fifth to Eighth Avenues South between 19th and 23rd streets, with Dec. 18 set as the date for hearing objections.

Highway Project
The Council approved the bid of Bacco Construction Company, Iron Mountain, received by the State Highway Department, for grading, drainage and paving work on US-2-41 and M-35 at the Ludington-23rd Street intersection. Total cost of the project will be $117,405.50 with the city's share $27,003.27.

Chester Rice, resident of the area, appeared before the Council to ask if special assessment for the paving was to be made against adjacent property owners. He was informed that the assessment will be the same for the concrete paving as is charged by the city for blacktop paving elsewhere. This will in part delay the city's share of the project cost.

On recommendation of City Safety Commission the Council gave first reading to a proposed ordinance amendment limiting parking to the west side of 19th Street from Ludington to Third Avenue.

Discuss Fluoridation
Council referred to the Planning Commission a request by Paul Hebert to change the zoning classification from Class B residential to Commercial for a corner location at 21st Street North and 13th Avenue North where Hebert said he wanted to establish a small business.

A resolution from the Barr School PTA requesting fluoridation of the city's water for the benefit of dental health among children of the community was received. City Manager A. V. Aronson said the city's plans for the new water plant include the installation of equipment to add fluoride to the water. Councilman Jacob Bink read a clipping from a Chicago newspaper in which it was reported that fluoridation there was opposed by the Chicago Association of Commerce.

City Clerk George Harvey and the city manager are to assemble additional information concerning fluoridation of municipal water supplies. The Delta County Dental Society is on record as endorsing the fluoridation program, and so also is the Delta County Lay Health Committee.

Council Studies SDM Application

Rudy Shreve of 1224 Tenth Ave. S., proprietor of a "neighborhood grocery" there, applied to the Escanaba City Council for approval of an SDM (packaged beer and wine to take out) license and started a neighborhood dispute.

Some of the residents of the area do not want the Council to approve the application. Others think that it would be a convenience to the neighborhood.

According to petitions filed with the city, 39 signers are against the Council approval the application and 47 are for it.

Mayor Robert E. LeMire also received a letter from Mrs. Marie Peterson, local and district President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, objecting to the location of SDM in the neighborhood of the Escanaba Senior High School.

State Investigates

The mayor said many people feel that the matter of packaged beer and wine is simply the sale of a legal commodity—like bread and butter.

Councilman Guy Knutson quipped that a lot of people think it is more important than bread and butter. He also said that he believes the Council should seriously consider whether to grant any more SDM licenses to stores in residential areas.

Mayor LeMire said he believes there should be "no discrimination" and if the Council decides against Shreve it should disapprove of all future SDM applications, no matter in what zone the store is located. Proximity to a church or school is regulated by the state and the Michigan Liquor Control Commission investigates this before granting licenses, he pointed out.

Majority Will Decide

Fred Fisher, a resident of the area who is opposed to the sale of packaged beer and wine in the neighborhood, appeared before the Council and voiced the opinion that it would be better to keep it out now than to try to withdraw the license later if it were granted. He said those opposed did not want the store opened until late

Rep. W. P. Littlewood, Wayne 6th District, Calling For Recount

LANSING (AP)—Rep. William P. Littlewood (R-Wyandotte), who was defeated for reelection by 131 votes, today asked the House of Representatives for a recount.

Alleging that improperly marked ballots were counted for his Democratic opponent, William R. Copeland of Wyandotte, Littlewood deposited a $250 check for a legislative recount of the 50 precincts in the Wayne Sixth District.

The Wayne County Board of Canvassers has certified Copeland as the winner with 18,073 votes to 17,942 for Littlewood.

Republicans would like to see Littlewood upset the certification by a recount, because if he could be seated, he would be the 6th Republican in the 100-member House.

This would give the Republicans the all-important two-thirds vote necessary to override vetoes, suspend rules and give bills immediate effect. The GOP has lacked that majority for four years.

The House membership now stands at 66 Republicans and 34 Democrats.

But, the Republican majority, which can either order a recount or deny it, must also reckon with two other possible recounts in Wayne County.

In these cases, Republicans were declared winner by small majorities. If recounts should upset either of them the situation would be back where it is now.

Recount demands are almost certain to come in the cases of Rep. Richard L. Thomson (R- Highland Park) who beat Joseph I. Jackson of Highland Park by 138 votes and Leonard E. Wood of Detroit, Republican who beat Democrat Raymond T. Doherty of Garden City by 449.

at night to become a "meeting place."

Shreve himself told the Council that he did want the license as a service to the people of the neighborhood and that these people had asked him to put beer and wine on his shelves.

The Council tabled the matter until a study of the signatures on both petitions can be made to determine how many are within what is described as the "immediate neighborhood."

Shreve was agreeable to this and said: "I will be happy to withdraw my application if the majority of the people in the neighborhood do not want it."

In this Buick SPECIAL you get a valve-in-head high-compression Fireball 8 Engine that can pour out a wealth of the thrilling power you ever held rein on—more power per dollar than you'll find elsewhere.

Every Buick has big soft coil springs on each wheel to cushion your way—and an unyielding torque-tube that firms and steadies your ride. Yet these are just two of the fifteen Buick ride features that cost, literally, more than a million dollars to engineer.

Then there's style, there's room, there's visibility, there's handling ease—all part of your travel—all helping to make the difference between good going and great going.

But price is very much part of the picture, too—what you pay for what you get.

So when you add in the big horsepower rating you get in a Buick, plus the extra thrill and thrift of its Fireball performance...

When you measure the inches of room, count up the many hours of comfort through the years, check off things like durability and solid satisfaction and high trade-in value...

The Worst Is Yet To Come In Michigan's Financial Status

THE financial crisis that is fast closing in on the State of Michigan is the result of deficit budgeting and as bad as the financial situation is now it still is not as bad as it will become when sales tax revenues begin to drop as they inevitably will some day.

The state simply has been appropriating more funds in each of the last several years than the state finance officials expected to be taken in. Fortunately the deficits have not been as great as had been anticipated because sales tax receipts each year were greater than anticipated, although not large enough to meet appropriated expenses.

Under a peculiar finance program that was made necessary by the sales tax diversion amendment, the state pays out to schools, cities and townships, from current tax receipts sums of monies that are established from the previous year's tax take. This works fine as long as sales tax funds show an increase each year.

But eventually the inflationary cycle will end and tax receipts will dip. That is when the real financial pinch will come. The state will be obligated to pay out from

THE 'LOYAL OPPOSITION'

(Detroit Free Press)

Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson hopes that the Democratic Party "will take a position of positive and intelligent opposition" to the next Republican Administration. Then he adds: "To the extent that I could help make the party a useful instrument to the Nation I will be glad to do so."

Although defeated in his bid for the Presidency, Gov. Stevenson is still leader of his party, as President Truman recognizes. Thus he will lead the "loyal opposition" to the party in power for the next four years. This does not mean, though, that he will enjoy the position of influence or the emoluments that go with leadership of the opposition in the British Parliament. There the minority leader occupies a seat in the Commons to which his constituents have elected him and receives a salary similar to that of the Prime Minister.

The titular leader of the minority party in the United States has no constitutional or legal authority. Consequently, he must lead by persuasion. Senators and Representatives, who won their elections while he lost his, are sometimes irked by this form of remote control.

Yet Gov. Stevenson's views on the proper function of the minority party, as critic of the party in power, are sound and he has expressed them clearly. The fact must not be forgotten that nearly 27,000,000 people in this country voted for the Democratic platform and program. A united Nation requires that their point of view be adequately presented in Congress.

If you want to be a successful self-made man, don't leave out the working parts.

Need Ingenuity To Find Cause Of Child's Nervous Disorders

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

When I was a small boy I was sent to dancing school, like many others were. Evidently, the first experience did not appeal to me because the second and third time the date rolled around I developed a "headache" and was unable to go. Needless to say, it did not take my parents long to catch on.

It is almost certain that nearly every parent will at one time or another be faced with the problem of trying to decide whether some symptom shown by their young hopeful—boy or girl—is the result of real illness, is just "put on" or is caused by an emotional disturbance rather than any physical reason.

It frequently takes a good deal of ingenuity and patience, not only to find out what is really causing the complaint of the youngster, but also to decide what to do about it.

Any number of children will feel a cold coming on, complain of a stomachache, or develop some other symptom when faced with something they do not want to do. But parents should be careful, under such circumstances not to overlook the possibility that the youngster does really have a cold, appendicitis, or some physical disorder which happens to develop at the same time.

The complaint may be real enough, too, even though it is the result of some emotional disturbance rather than a bodily disease.

For example, this by no means unusual

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Last Sunday, the day the hydrogen-bomb explosion was announced, I happened to go to church. I say "happened" because a television program and a radio broadcast both coming on a Sunday ordinarily make it hard for me to go to church.

But the telecast is being switched to Wednesdays, so I surprised Mrs. P by taking her to church, where I listened to Rev. John R. Anschutz preach a sermon on prayer. Knowing that the hydrogen-bomb announcement was due to be made later that day or the next morning, I did quite a bit of thinking about prayer, and the fact that maybe if we had relied more on prayer and the things that go with prayer, we wouldn't be in the predicament of building bomb-shelters and going underground for fear of explosions that could burn up our civilization.

Over at the Alexandria, Va., church where George Washington used to worship, Rev. O. V. T. Chamberlain chose as his closing hymn: "The Day Thou Gavest, Lord, Is Ended."

That expressed some thoughts of mine too.

For the day the Lord gave us could very well be ended if we and the Russians ever get to trading hydrogen-bomb blows across the Arctic.

BOMBS VS. IDEAS

On the other hand, I also figured that bombs never killed an idea, and our greatest natural resource is not plutonium or tritium, but our moral and spiritual strength.

Religion and Communism cannot survive together. But one trouble is that religion has got to mean more than a refuge from ruthless force. It must be a pattern for life, not a ritual for one hour on Sunday.

Another trouble is that men of all faiths and of little faith have been seeking ideas to defeat Communism, when right around the corner the best idea of all is being neglected—the Sermon on the Mount, given us 2,000 years ago as a daily guide for living with each other.

The big trouble, of course, is to get that daily guide adopted not only here, but also behind an iron curtain where religion is barred and where we can't even mail a package.

I have been harping for so long that I guess people are tired of hearing me, about the fact that there will always be danger of war—no matter how many H-bombs we build or how many men we draft—as long as we can't speak to the Russian people, can't mingle with them, can't cooperate with them in a free press, free radio, free church, free books, and free contact with the outside world.

As long as 12 men in the Kremlin can declare war with no congress, no church, no press, or power of public opinion to put on the brakes, there will always be danger of war and the day thou gavest, Lord, may be ended.

BREAKING IRON CURTAIN

I have tried in what feeble ways I could to show that the iron curtain was not as impenetrable as it's supposed to be. I once traveled along it from Turkey to Berlin showing up its loopholes; and in cooperation with the Crusade for Freedom I helped float 11,000,000 leaflets via balloons into Czechoslovakia and Poland.

These at best were puny efforts, though they showed, from the reaction on the other side of the iron curtain, how eagerly its people welcome contact with us.

Today, however, we have two opportunities which need not be puny. First we have a new and powerful hydrogen bomb, thereby giving us tremendous bargaining power to break down the artificial barriers preventing peace.

Second, we have a new President. He is a man of great prestige, known throughout the world and in Russia. And he has what Franklin Roosevelt had, a flair for dramatics, the ability to win people, to capture their imagination. Whether you agree with him politically or not, Eisenhower is and can be an international salesman. And that's what's needed today in selling the world new instruments for peace.

It is always possible at the beginning of a new administration to form important, new and dynamic policies.

That's because outgoing leaders become jaded and get in a rut. Our present outgoing leaders have put across some milestones against Communism for which historians will give them great credit—the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic Pact.

But the sheen is off these policies now. They are shopworn and lackluster. They still form a firm foundation on which to build for prosperity and peace. And on them a new administration can build bigger things—if it has courage and imagination.

The Rumor Mill

Draper, Coordinator In Europe, Says Americans Misunderstand

By WADE JONES
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS — (NEA) — An American who is in a position to know a lot about Europe's problems would like to clear up what he believes is a major misconception back home.

He's a tall, tanned man of 58, with dark blue eyes, black hair and eyebrows, and an unusually deep yet soft voice. His name is William H. Draper, Jr.

Since last Jan. 14 he has been President Truman's special representative in Europe, holding the rank of ambassador and charged with the impossible-sounding task of coordinating virtually all affairs here in which the U. S. has an interest—military, political, and economic.

Boiled down, his main job is hammering through Western Europe's military build-up and at the same time trying to prevent any resultant economic collapse.

On a typically rainy afternoon in Paris, Draper sat in his great gold-leafed and mirrored office in historic Talleyrand Palace, overlooking the Place de la Concorde, and talked for an hour about his job.

One thing he feels strongly about is "the general attitude in the United States toward NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) and the European build-up."

"I believe," he says, "there is a general feeling at home that the U. S. is spending everything for the build-up and that Europe itself is doing little."

"But consider the fact that Europe has tripled its defense production in the last three years and doubled its defense budgets."

"Also, comparing Europe's contribution with its economic status, Europe's contribution is as great as that of the United States."

"For instance, taxes collected in Britain, Germany and France represent a larger percentage of the gross national production of those countries than the tax burden in the United States represents of our total production."

Draper recognizes the criticism that the French have a habit of dodging payment of their income taxes. "But," he says, "it must be remembered that about two-thirds of their tax burden is in hidden taxes on consumer goods, which cannot be ducked."

"In the United States, it's just the reverse. About two-thirds of our taxes are directly levied income and corporation taxes and the remainder are so-called hidden levies."

"I am not saying that some European countries cannot do more than they are now doing, but then so can we."

Draper says he doesn't think European countries "look upon the threat of war with Russia with as much concern as the United States does."

One reason for this, he says, is that "for the first time the U. S. is the most heavily involved country in what could be a world war and we know if it spreads we will be in it all the way from the start."

That, plus the fact the Soviet has picked the United States as its principal target.

The most important European objective at this time, Draper says, is ratification of the agreements for establishing a European Army.

THE CARELESS ONES—Deer hunting accidents are claiming lives although the season is still in its first week. Before the closing Dec. 1 there will be more deaths and injuries.

What causes these accidents? "Carelessness" is the one-word answer—but there are factors in carelessness that must be considered in connection with the action of sighting a deer rifle at a human being.

So far as the great percentage of the gun accidents is concerned there is no element of intent. There is negligence, perhaps criminal negligence, but few if any of the hunters intend to kill or injure another hunter.

The accidents do happen, however, with alarming regularity each hunting season. And all too few hunters take the necessary time to school themselves into more careful attitudes.

INCREASING TENSION—The whole program of hunting season preparation conspires to encourage excitement in the hunter and dull his sense of responsibility in handling guns.

A hundred and one things must be done before the hunter leaves for the woods. He prepares for his ammunition, his supplies, his license. He talks with his friends who will be his companions in camp.

They discuss the hunting failures and successes of prior years. Rivalries develop to see which one of the party will first bag his buck.

When the opening day comes, or the hunter enters the woods for the first time, he is under a tension that encourages excited reaction and thoughtless action.

SOMETHING MOVES—The hunter is "tuned up" for the kill. Perhaps he has been stalking a deer for a few minutes or for hours.

Then "something moves" in the brush. His mind's eye pictures a deer—for that is what he seeks. If he is at all cautious he waits and watches. Suddenly the object becomes, for all purposes of identification, a buck deer and he raises his rifle and fires.

The hunter's explanation of the tragedy follows a familiar pattern.

"There was a deer down there and just as I pulled the trigger this man—I didn't see him before—stepped into the line of fire."

"The deer was behind some bushes and just as I fired this man must have been kneeling down because he suddenly stood up in the path of the bullet."

Seldom if ever does the hunter say that he saw another hunter, mistook him for a deer, and opened fire.

THERE ARE ACCIDENTS—It will be admitted that accidents do happen.

One of the most unusual happened in this way: The hunter slipped on wet ground and in falling his rifle accidentally discharged. The bullet penetrated the man's left arm, ricocheted when it struck a nearby rock and wounded the hunter a second time in a tender portion of his anatomy.

But many of the so-called accidents are not just chanceful happenings—the rifle has been pointed, the sights used to direct the bullet, the finger squeezes the trigger.

DEATH IN THE SWAMP—Proof that a combination of circumstances lead to hunting accidents is revealed in the character of the land where the "accident" occurs.

Usually it is brushy, most often an evergreen swamp, where deer are expected to lurk and where vision is obscured.

Under these conditions men have been known to shoot hunting companions from whom they had been separated only a few minutes. They "saw something move," they waited until they saw the "deer," and then fired—at a member of their own party.

The mind's eye plays queer tricks. It will reveal to the hunter what he seeks, and not what is actually there.

The test for any hunter who wants to avoid "accidents" is a deliberately conscious fear that he may shoot another hunter. If he is cautious to the point of letting a buck escape rather than fire even one hasty bullet he will never be guilty of an "accident."

For no human being is so deformed that he in any way resembles a buck deer with antlers extending not less than three inches from the skull.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Kalamazoo, Mich.—"In asking a person to get the signature of another on a petition, which is preferable usage: 'Please procure his signature,' or 'Please secure his signature?'"—H. E. V.

Answer—If you are obliged to use one or the other, procure is the preferable term. In such usage as this it has the meaning "to obtain by request." But I think I should use the less formal word get or, perhaps, obtain.

Enid, Okla.—"A violent discussion has raged in our office whether the verb in the following sentence should be taken or were taken. The sentence is: 'The hearing lasted four days, and 700 pages of testimony (was, were) taken.' Which verb is correct?"—Miss G. N. L.

Answer—In all such instances as this the writer has the final choice. If he thinks of the 700 pages as a lump quantity, one solid mass of testimony, he would properly write, "700 pages of testimony was taken." A parallel construction is, "Seven hundred dollars was stolen." But if the speaker looked upon the testimony as comprising 700 separate pages, viewing each page as a unit, he would instinctively think of the total as a plural number and, accordingly, write "700 pages of testimony were taken."

Various Readers.—In America, garage is preferably pronounced gah-RAHZH, with gah-RAHDG as second choice; GAR-ijg, which is common in England, is becoming popular here also. Condolence is preferably pronounced kon-DOH-lun-see. Gonderla is accented on the first syllable, GAHN-duh-luh.

That was when I jerked my head up—he (a seal) slid by right underneath me.—Florence Chadwick on her Catalina channel swim.

AMERICA'S MILK FUTURE

Railroad Men Worry About Car Shortage

By T. E. APPELEGATE
For SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroad men worry whether they'll have enough cars for all the freight they'll be asked to haul in the next few months.

The year's peak loading season when crops move to market and materials shippers try to beat the cold weather, is waning.

But weekly carloadings still run ahead of the level of a year ago, and calls by shippers for cars are expected to stay at a high level well into 1953.

Replacements Lag
In the face of this, the railroads have available fewer serviceable cars than the total with which they started the year.

This is partly because the steel shortage has cut into the production of new freight cars. The railroads have some 90,000 new cars on order but deliveries tell to 3,762 in September and rose only to 5,437 in October.

Roughly a third of the cars now in use are more than 25 years old. These are wearing out faster than new cars are being built.

So in recent months the railroads have been retiring more average cars than they have been able to replace.

Output Being Pushed
Both the new car builders and the repair shops need steel, delivery of which was delayed by last summer's long strike in the steel mills. Their calls for plates and structural steel clash with requirements of military production for the same items, now among the hardest to get of any steel products.

The picture isn't all dark, however.

Steel output is being pushed along at a record pace, with October's 9,790,000 tons the largest amount ever made in a single month. The Defense Transport administration has urged allocation of enough steel to produce 38,660 new freight cars each quarter.

Plunge Fatal To 8

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (AP)—Three officers and five enlisted men died in the crash into the sea of a P2V, a Neptune bomber, 70 miles southeast of Block Island.

The plane, participating in anti-submarine exercises, "made a pass" at a submarine, then hit the water, the Navy said.

Reduction Of Taconite Provides Cushion For Supply Of Iron Ore

By A. T. APPELEGATE
For Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—A costly cushion is going to be put under the nation's supply of domestic iron ore within five years.

It's intended to assure continuity of steel production.

The cushion consists of facilities to convert iron-bearing taconite rock, available in the Lake Superior district in almost inexhaustible quantities, into pellets of high-content ore to feed steel industry blast furnaces.

Imports Too Risky
Two factors spur the move to utilize this rock: declining output of Minnesota's Mesabi ore that can be mined and shipped "as is" to the furnaces, and fear that flow of ore from prolific new foreign sources would be interrupted in a war emergency.

The swift expansion of steel-making calls for more and more raw materials. Vast new sources of usable iron ore have been uncovered outside the borders of this country, boosting imports of ore by nearly 24 per cent last year.

But steel companies don't want to have too many eggs in a foreign basket. They have been working for years on methods of using the iron contained in taconite, and some pilot operations have been in progress.

The timetable for enlarging this work is not too exact, but it is reported to envision some output on a commercial scale by 1955.

Difficult To Mine
To accomplish this the steel companies will spend hundreds of millions of dollars.

Reserve Mining Corp., owned jointly by Republic Steel Corp. and Armco Steel Corp., is reported negotiating new financing that may run as high as 150 million dollars to pay for a large taconite facility being built near Beaver Bay on Lake Superior. The plant is to have an initial capacity of 2½ million tons a year.

Other taconite projects include a huge facility planned by Erie Mining Co., at Aurora, Minn., and Oliver Iron Mining Co.'s plant at Mountain Iron, Minn.

Reduction of taconite poses some stiff problems.

It is hard rock usually of 25 to 30 per cent iron, difficult to mine and requiring heavy machinery to handle. Three tons of it must be crushed to produce one ton of concentrated ore in which the iron may run 67 to 70 per cent. This last is considerably higher than the average of Minnesota ores now in use, and could result in more efficient operation in the blast furnaces.

Easier To Ship
Iron particles are separated from the crushed rock and concentrated into pellets, a form that makes the ore easier to ship and ready for use when it reached the steel mills.

From the Mesabi range alone some 73 million gross tons of iron ore were shipped last year.

If the taconite facilities live up to some industry estimates that they eventually will produce 20 to 40 million tons of high iron content ore a year, they will go a long way towards stretching out the nation's domestic supply.

Operetta Wins Crowd Support

An able cast in good voice opened the Civic Drama Guild's '52-'53 season in Escanaba last night with presentation of a streamlined version of Johann Strauss' "The Fledermaus," in Oliver Auditorium.

The music of the Strauss operetta, particularly the brilliant solos, struck a note of delight with the audience, which numbered about 400. There were some who looked for more fullness in the music, but, as Musical Director William Wallace stated in opening the season here, "We don't pretend to be Metropolitan Opera."

The story of one man's revenge on another, who had left him in a public square in the costume of a bat, provided hearty laughs for the Escanabans. In parts the show jerked, and was too sketchy, but the fault, if any, was with the operetta version itself, not the players.

Wandering Husband

Jack Rains, who previously sung the lead in "Brigadoon" and toured with "Student Prince" and "Singing Girl," gave a boisterous performance as Gabriel Von Eisenstein, and successfully portrayed the role of the husband with wandering interests.

Rosalinda, his wife, was played by Theodora Andrews, who recently toured in South America with the National Opera company. Miss Andrews capably handled the lead, and showed fine ensemble sense as she performed with Gracia Christie, as Princess Orlofsky, and Kathryn De Haven, as Adele, the maid.

Peter Messineo, a former member of the London Grand Opera Touring company for "Carmen," enacted the role of Dr. Falke, the man who is out to get revenge for his loss of dignity after being found in bat costume in a public square. His performance was convincing, and he set the pace for the show as he appeared in a before-curtain scene.

Two More Comedies

Peter Tambakis, who recently toured with the Mexico National Opera company and the City Centre Opera company of New York, gave much amusement as he portrayed "Alfred," the artist-lover who attempts to take over when Eisenstein is sent to jail.

The show gave the Escanaba audience amusing and enjoyable theatre fare, and drew warm applause, both at curtain closings and following several of the delightful solo and choral numbers.

Sets for the three scenes in this production were simple but adequate.

Musical accompaniment for the cast was provided by William Wallace at the piano.

Theatre fare yet in store for Escanabans, in this Lions Club-sponsored drama series, are "Glad Tidings" and "Jenny Kissed Me," on Jan. 29 and April 9.

Dulles May Form Super Council To Guide Cold War

have urged closest possible liaison between incoming and outgoing officials, for this and other reasons.

Dulles is unlike any other man Eisenhower might have named. Not only a veteran of 45 years of work in the foreign field—he was secretary of an international conference when his grandfather was secretary of state in 1907—he has also played an important part in the development of national policies during recent years.

Helped Vandenberg

Once a U. S. Senator and a close associate of the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg and of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Dulles had a hand in the formation of the United Nations, and in obtaining bi-partisan backing for it.

He has served on many missions abroad, apart from the U. N. He was one of those who helped to put across the Marshall Plan for European recovery and to shape the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In April, 1950, Dulles became a full-time consultant to Acheson. Last March Dulles resigned his consultant position to be free to criticize the administration and to campaign actively for a Republican victory in November.

In the course of this campaign he broadly supported all efforts to unify and strengthen the Allies, but sharply criticized what he considered to be the administration's failure to develop a truly offensive global strategy in the cold war.

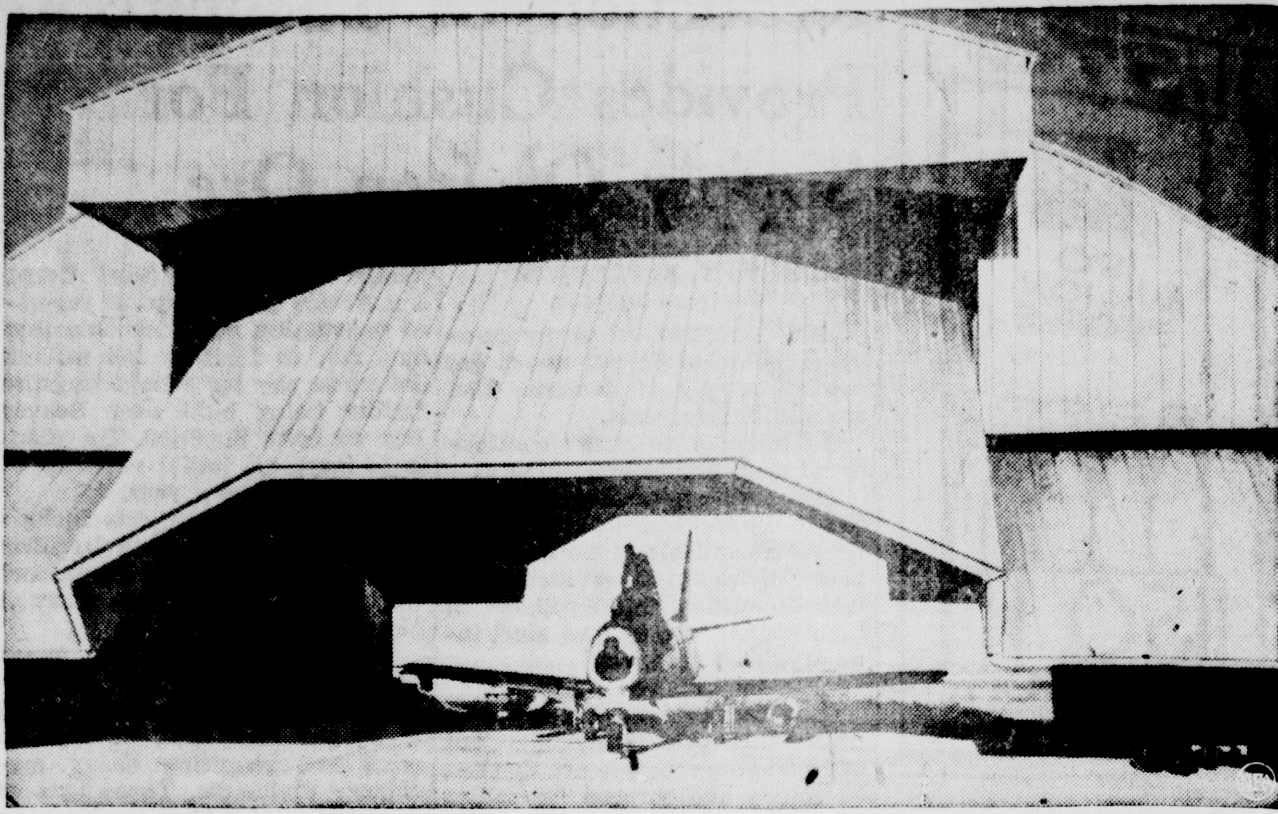

New Defense Chief May Accompany Ike On Flight To Korea

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors President Charles E. Wilson, newly chosen secretary of defense by President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower, will go with the general to Korea, the Detroit Times said today.

The newspaper quoted "executives close to Wilson" for the report.

General Motors neither confirmed nor denied the report.

Wilson Has Tough Task Ahead As Defense Secretary

fense secretary can be important in how a battle is fought and how men die.

The number of persons who work under the Defense Department and its armed forces approaches the five-million mark—3,600,000 of whom are in the armed forces, the others civilian employees in the farflung enterprises of the military establishment. General Motors has a big work force, but nowhere near that large.

General Motors is really big business. In defense contracts alone, not counting the income from commercial sales, it has been doing business in the multimillions since the start of the Korean War. But the Defense Department spending budget runs about 60 billion dollars a year.

ALL CHARLES E. NEW YORK (AP)—Just to put matters straight on industry's three Charles E. Wilsons—

1. Charles Erwin Wilson is the General Motors Corp. president who President-elect Eisenhower announced yesterday as his secretary of defense.

2. Charles Edward Wilson is the former president of the General Electric Company and former director of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

3. Charles Eben Wilson is the former chairman of the board of the Worthington Pump and Machinery Corp.

Bishop's Clothing Collection Will Begin On Nov. 23

The Catholic Bishops' Thanksgiving clothing collection for Korea, refugees in Europe and the Near East and Far East will take place in all Catholic churches in the United States the week of Nov. 23. Thanksgiving week.

Clothing for men and women, boys and girls and infants is urgently needed as the lack of clothing, blankets and shoes remains the great single need facing the world's refugee population as another winter approaches. This is especially true in Korea where winter already has set in.

Traditionally generous American people are requested to show their thanksgiving to God for His generosity to them during the week by giving all useable clothing they can spare. High heeled shoes, fancy hats and straw hats have no value in this clothing drive. All clothing should be clean.

Members of St. Joseph's Altar Society of which Mrs. Robert Forton is president, will be in charge of the collection at St. Joseph's church and will be at the parish hall all day Tuesday, Nov. 25 to receive, sort and pack contributions.

Gangland Triggerman Caught In Los Angeles After 20-Year Chase

LOS ANGELES (AP)—With dead-pan mobster Leonard C. Mocerri accidentally in custody, police sought answers to unsolved gangland executions dating from liquor bootlegging days to the modern Mafia.

"The nation's most wanted triggerman" was the tag given 45-year-old Leonard the Lip by Los Angeles police.

He'd given officers the slip 20 years since indictment on four mob killings in Toledo, O., dating from 1931 to 1933. Officers think there might be some recent chapters such as the Bugsy Siegel murder, the killing of Mickey Cohen's attorney Sammy Rummel and the double slaying of Tony Brancato and Tony Trombino in Hollywood a couple years back.

Detroit police also want to ask some questions concerning the demise of hoodlum Jack George whose body was found stuffed in an automobile trunk.

Right now police here seek Mocerri's ballet dancing wife, Margaret, who dropped from sight coincident with her husband's arrest.

It was by dropping slugs into a telephone that Mocerri gave himself away. He had $1,800 in his wallet and a Cadillac at the curb late Tuesday when arrested by telephone company officers.

Through fingerprints police discovered who they had in custody. They also found some names, addresses and telephone numbers on Mocerri. As a result officers questioned several men they said were local "associates" of Mafia, the notorious crime society. They were released after the questioning.

Driver Pleads Guilty—Clayton C. Dean of 1303 First Ave. N., today entered a plea of guilty in Justice Caroline A. Nystrom's court to a charge of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. He was ordered to pay a fine and costs of $43.25 or serve 30 days in jail. Escanaba police ticketed Dean after his car struck and damaged a parked car owned by Richard Arkens, 221 South 15th St., at 6 a. m. today.

Theft Reported—A furnace and stoker in the Industrial Electric Company building, near the ore docks, was stolen by two Escanaba juveniles, police reported. The boys are being questioned.

Stevenson's Margin In Kentucky Only 700

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson won Kentucky's 10 electoral votes in the Nov. 4 election by only 700 votes, the complete official figures showed today. Kentucky is traditionally Democratic.

The official compilation gave Stevenson 495,729 votes to 495,029 for President-elect Eisenhower.

Newsmap above shows outcome of 1952 senatorial elections. Of the 35 seats up for election or re-election, the GOP won 23 and the Dems won 12, which would give the Republicans an edge of 49-47. However, Sen. Wayne Morse, who bolted the GOP, could even the count by voting with the Democrats. In the event of a tie, the vice president who will be Richard Nixon, casts the tie-breaking vote. Nebraska and Connecticut elected two senators due to the deaths of Kenneth Wherry and Brien McMahon.

VOTERS CAST THEIR BALLOT — Above Newschart tracks voting habits in the U. S. from 1912 to the present. The potential vote has increased more rapidly than the actual vote, reaching an estimated 96 million for the 1952 election. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and the GOP set an all-time record by getting approximately 32 million popular votes in the 1952 presidential election.

President-Elect Has No Taft Men In Cabinet Yet

platform foreign policy plank to which both candidates agreed.

By the selection of Dulles, most GOP politicians believed Eisenhower had answered Democratic charges during the presidential campaign that the general had gone "isolationist."

May Be Coolness

While Dulles probably wouldn't have been among Taft's choices for secretary of state, the prospective cabinet member and the Ohio senator share somewhat the same views on the importance of the Far East in American policies and always have gotten along well personally.

Taft, asked to comment on the appointments, gave a curt "no comment" last night.

"Why should I be asked to comment on all appointments," he said.

Taft won a point when Eisenhower named an industrialist to head the Defense Department. But the appointee didn't come from among three men reportedly suggested by the Ohioan.

And if Eisenhower doesn't pick from the score or more of the friends Taft is reported to have submitted for some of the six cabinet jobs still open, there might develop a coolness which would not increase the favorable outlook for passage of Eisenhower's legislative proposals.

Detroit's Sure Choice

The President-elect has yet to name publicly his choices for secretaries of the Treasury, agriculture, commerce and labor, attorney general and postmaster general.

He apparently intends to make Joseph Dodge, Detroit banker, head of the Budget Bureau and reportedly wants Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts to serve him as a sort of assistant president, with rank of ambassador-at-large.

Other top jobs to be filled include those on the United Nations delegation, mutual security administrator, head of the Federal security Agency, three members of the Council of Economic Advisers, and defense mobilization and economic stabilization directors—if those latter two agencies remain alive.

Most of those currently mentioned for major jobs were not preconvention supporters of Taft.

Many Prospects

Names heard most often in speculation about the new secretary of the Treasury include Sinclair Weeks—Massachusetts Republican National Committeeman who advised Taft to quit the race before the Chicago convention—Boston banker Robert Cutler and Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Virginia Democrat who didn't support his party's presidential nominee.

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, a Democrat who supported Eisenhower, also has been mentioned as a possible appointee to a major job but he told a news conference at Columbia yesterday that "under no circumstances" would he accept a federal government appointment.

Paul Hoffman, former Marshall Plan administrator and early Eisenhower enthusiast, and Walter Williams of Seattle, head of the Volunteers for Eisenhower, have been talked about for the commerce post.

Former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota has been mentioned for secretary of labor.

Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, Eisenhower's chief of staff during the campaign, probably can have a top spot if he wants one.

Chicago Apartment Fire Fatal To Three; 100 Flee To Street

CHICAGO (AP)—Three persons died in a fire which swept a three-story brick apartment building early today. Firemen rescued a dozen persons from the top floor of the building at 259-261 West 65th St., on the city's South Side. Another 100 persons fled to the street in sub-freezing weather.

The dead were identified as Pedro Tirado, about 40, his wife, Juana Vega, also about 40, and Mrs. Lucille Washburne, about 50. They were found in their rooms on the top floor. Doctors said all three appeared to have died from smoke inhalation.

Fire officials, who estimated damage at $8,000, said cause of the blaze had not been determined.

'Harlequin' Babies Puzzle Medical Men

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, Eng. (AP)—Brand new "harlequin" babies who suddenly change color with a sharp line down their middles dividing pale from pink are baffling medical men.

The tots regain normal pinkness all over after a short period and everything seems all right with them—but hospital doctors still scratched their heads in bewilderment as they reported the phenomenon today in a medical journal, The Lancet.

In the past year, 21 babies have undergone the strange change, all while lying on their sides. "Each of us on separate occasions saw a particular baby in the nursery of this hospital undergo a most bizarre and striking color change with which we were previously unfamiliar," doctors at Princess Mary Maternity Hospital wrote in the article.

"At the age of three days, she was lying naked on her right side in an oxygen box when the left half of her body became much paler than usual although the right side remained the usual ink," they wrote of one case.

"The dividing line between the two halves was as sharp and straight as if it were drawn with a pencil and ruler, and ran exactly in a line down the center of the forehead, nose, chin and trunk. This surprising appearance passed off spontaneously after a few minutes."

Execution Of Two Rosenberg Spies Set For Jan. 12

They were convicted March 29, 1951 of passing atomic secrets to Russia.

Doctors Dislike Duty In Camps

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the American Medical Association says many doctors are refusing to volunteer for military service because they feel too much of their time is wasted treating wives and children of armed forces members.

Dr. Louis H. Bauer of Hempstead, N.Y., called upon the services to find out how much time military doctors spend caring for dependents because, he said:

"Questionnaires sent to (medical) men on leaving the services cite this frequently as a cause of resentment—namely that they have been drafted from civilian life to take care of other civilians."

May Turn To Draft

In urging an investigation by the armed forces, the AMA leader said in an address prepared for the 59th annual meeting of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States:

"The necessity for extension of the doctor draft law will depend in part on the answer to this question."

Dr. Melvin A. Casberg, chairman of the Armed Forces Medical Policy Council, said yesterday doctors up to 51 years of age without veterans' status may be drafted early next year unless the present outlook in doctor supply improves.

At another point in his talk, Dr. Bauer asserted:

"The medical services of the armed forces are still suffering from unfavorable reactions, the result of the last war."

Conditions Improved

"There is no doubt that doctors were wasted at that time. Many were kept weeks and months in mobilization camps doing little. Others were assigned to duties of a nonmedical nature."

"Many, in fact most, of these conditions have now been largely eliminated. Unfortunately, this is not widely known. Former officers have tended to discourage men from going into the services, because of their unfavorable recollections of their own service."

He urged the armed forces to undertake a campaign of public relations among the civilian medical profession.

NOW WE KNOW!—Or do we? William Black, of the 1st battalion, Cameronians, supplies the answer to an age-old question as he capers with Lillian Ponnampalam in a country dance sponsored by his regiment in Singapore. The age-old question: "What does a Scotsman wear under his kilts?"

Soviet Propaganda Geared Up In China

By SPENCER DAVIS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Chinese Communist radio broadcasts this month have pulled out all the stops in lavish praise of the military, political and economic alliance between Red China and the Soviet Union.

The Red propaganda has been geared to an officially proclaimed "Sino-Soviet Friendship Month." With every facility at its command the Peiping administration has sought to show its appreciation for Russian aid and to popularize it among China's own peoples.

Mass Rallies Held

From various Chinese cities have come reports of mass rallies, touring song and dance teams, cultural missions and wreath-laying ceremonies "in honor of Soviet martyrs who heroically sacrificed their lives in the war of liberation of Northeast China (Manchuria)."

During the civil war, the Chinese Communists carefully refrained from acknowledging any direct Russian military help, although it was termed a war of liberation. The reference to liberation of Manchuria apparently was to the closing week of World War II when Marshal Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian Army swept through the Japanese defenders into Korea.

A flood of Soviet pictures have been released throughout China. In Mukden 16 theaters showed Soviet color pictures exclusively.

One Red radio commentary noted that friendly relations dating back more than 30 years had been bulwarked by the 1950 Sino-Soviet Treaty of Friendship, Military Alliance and Mutual Assistance. The treaty is aimed primarily at Japan.

Praise For Russia

Peiping cited the following accomplishments from its binding ties with Moscow:

1. USSR has consistently upheld the right of China to participate in the United Nations and opposed the U. S. "invasion" of Korea and "occupation" of Formosa.
2. China and Russia jointly rejected the peace treaty with Japan.
3. Russia lent China 300 million dollars to restore its economy.
4. Russia handed over to China, without payment, buildings of the former military cantonment in Peiping, property acquired from the Japanese in Manchuria, property in Dairen under lease to the Soviet Union. By the end of this year the Russians are due to transfer all installations and properties of the jointly operated Changchun Railway in Manchuria.

Fashion Industry Gets Lift From Mrs. Eisenhower

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Mamie Eisenhower is expected to give a lift to the fashion industry.

Business is popping down in the caverns of New York's Seventh Avenue this week, as buyers by the thousands crowd into showrooms to order next spring's fashions; a new spirit of optimism is apparent among the manufacturers, and first reports show a solid increase in orders for spring merchandise throughout the country.

Women's Wear Daily, the "buyer's bible," predicts a rosy future for the fashion business as the result of "a first lady who also is a real influence in the fashion world."

Uses Good Taste

Certain it is that the next first lady knows her frocks and hats, and uses her own good taste in selecting them. Her wardrobe is made up of both French and American models, and she is as likely to buy a dress she likes for $50 as she is to order an exclusive custom-made one. What pleases the moguls of the nation's 11 billion dollar fashion industry is that Mrs. Eisenhower can be counted on to wear either with an air.

The millions who cheered Mamie during the campaign tour noted that she always was well groomed, in simple little suits or dresses of good lines and flattering cut, that her hats were right and her gloves spotless, that she managed to achieve that ideal state of looking "well-hung together."

At tonight's gala ball, at the Plaza Hotel, New York society will get a close-up view of the next first lady, honorary chairman, whose gown for the event may be expected to set the trend for the season's formal wear.

Looks Younger Than 56

For everyday wear Mrs. Eisenhower has a preference for feminine lines, full skirts, fitted bodices and flattering necklines. She is a petite size 12, looks younger than her 56 years, and has been described as "that rare phenomenon, a grandmother who looks wonderful in a strapless dress."

One New York designer, from whose line Mrs. Eisenhower selected a number of outfits at the start of the campaign, describes her as "a designer's dream, who has a divine figure, loves clothes and knows how to wear them."

The next first lady is not a spendthrift. She is a canny shopper, and gets her money's worth. She is said to have decided that Paris clothes were too expensive for a whole wardrobe, and that she could find things just as flattering and far less costly back in the good old USA.

Patricia Whiston Of Oak Park Bride In Church Rites

Now at home at 434 S. Euclid in Oak Park, Ill., after a honeymoon at the Casablanca in Miami Beach are Mr. and Mrs. James Colbert Kirby whose marriage took place Saturday, Nov. 8, in the Church of the Ascension in Oak Park.

The bride is the former Patricia Ann Whiston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Christopher Whiston of 639 S. Ridgeland, Oak Park, and her father is a member of a widely known former Escanaba family. The senior James Kirbys of Maywood are the bridegroom's parents.

Attendants at the wedding ceremony performed by Father Gorpan were Miss Dorothy Mae Kennedy, a cousin of the bride, maid of honor, Mrs. Margaret Kennedy Jr., of Skokie and Miss Dorothy Burdick of LaGrange, bridesmaids, Patricia Whiston of Oak Park, a cousin of the bride, junior bridesmaid, Thomas McGeeney of Oak Park, who was best man and B. M. Kennedy Jr. and Daniel L. Whiston, ushers.

The breakfast and reception were held at Oak Park Arms.

The bride attended Siena High School, Rosary College and DePaul University. Her husband attended Fenwick and received his degree from Loyola University.

tried telling him in a nice way but neither does any good. Now what should I try?"

(A) Try the silent treatment. When he next teases you and when you feel that you have had enough, say nothing and pay no further attention to him. If he persists with the teasing, walk out of the room and don't return until you are sure he is occupied with something else.

Being tired and overworked makes you less resistant to teasing than you otherwise would be. That is why your feelings are hurt, why it increases your nervousness, and why you cry. This, however, is not good for you and it merely adds to the nervousness and fatigue you now experience.

You could handle the situation better if you didn't allow the teasing to get started. It may be fun for you to tease and fool around but you know that your husband can't stop once he gets started. Therefore, don't encourage him to get started.

What you have said and done in the past has merely increased his desire to tease you. He sees that he has the upper hand. Don't give him this satisfaction in the future. Instead try to avoid all situations that might lead to teasing. If your husband makes an opportunity to start a teasing session, leave the room. Your silence will tell him better than anything else that you are not in the mood to be teased at this time.

Try Silent Treatment On A Teasing Husband

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

Some people like to tease. It inflates their egos and makes them seem important. But, what about the person who is teased? Here is how one person feels about the matter:

(Q) "My problem may not seem important to you but, to me, it's at a point where I just don't know what to do any more. My husband is a teaser. He teases me to the point where I cry. I'm very nervous to be in with. I rear the children and work besides. I'm usually tired and can't take too much. I like to fool and joke like any other person but when I tell my husband to please stop, that I've had enough, I expect him to do so. But he just keeps it up. I've tried getting angry and I've

A supply sergeant with Support Company, Minor entered the Army in February 1951.

Names Of Roses Irk Communists

VIENNA (AP)—Hungary's Communist regime doesn't like the names of certain roses — they smell too much of the West.

The official newspaper Szabad Nep criticized the names of roses in a public park—"Lord Rosmore, Lord Charlemont, The Duchess of Sutherland, Lady Ashton, Lady Frost, Golden Ophelia, Pope Pius XII, Maria Theresia."

The newspaper suggested they be given more "glorious" names, like "May 1, November 7, Red Star, Liberation"—all with Communist significance.

A former Escanaba woman, Mrs. Blanche Ross, owns one of the best kegler marks ever registered in Maywood, Ill. She scattered the maples with games of 248, 219 and 200 for a heavy 667 series. Mrs. Ross' team fired an amazing 2,726 match total that night.

The Soo Indians, performing in the Northern Ontario Hockey Association circuit, recently took a stiff penalty from league officials. Player-coach John Horeck and wingman Ron Rubie and Jim Farrell have been handed match misconduct suspensions following hectic action on the ice against the Soo, Ontario, team. The Indians are currently in the cellar of the Association's southern division with three wins, six losses and a tie.

Sunday is the day that Tony Canadeo will be honored by the Packers and Green Bay fans. In 11 seasons with the Packers, Canadeo has done everything but play tackle, guard or center. He has performed at all backfield positions, took a spot at end at times and worked on defense. He has produced approximately 8,500 yards, through last Sunday, on rushing, passing, pass receiving, punt and kickoff returns and interceptions.

Willard Butler, ex-Vulcan High School athletic star, returned to his alma mater as basketball coach this season and won his first start. The Giant Killers topped Republic 44-34 the other night. Eddie Doucette resigned as cage coach at Vulcan after many years of service.

The trickle of Upper Peninsula High School basketball games swells into a torrent this weekend with 20 games on tap as the 1952-53 campaign gets underway in earnest.
Of considerable interest on tonight's slate will be Nahma's bid for its 24th straight victory at Hermansville. Coach Babe Anderson's Arrows swept through a 17-game schedule without defeat last season and added the U. P. Class E crown at tournament time.
The Arrows already have a good start this season. They belted Grand Marais 67-49 in their opener last Saturday and swept by a veteran Cooks team 58-47 Tuesday night. Hermansville lost its opener to Bark River-Harris by a 39-35 margin.

Central League Games
Other Friday night games will send a number of Central League teams into action. Trenary invades Rock in an opener, Eben is host to Munising's Mustangs in a non-league outing and the Broncos of Bark River seek their second straight league win at Perkins.
In faster company, Iron River travels to Ironwood in a Class B inaugural, Newberry under new coach Karl Parker invades St. Ignace and Stambaugh is at Niagara, Wis., in a Menominee Jangle Conference outing.

Ironwood St. Ambrose, minus giant Norbert Purol, travels to Wakefield to test the Cardinals.
Expect Full House
Escanaba cage fans get their first taste of the new season in an attractive dish Saturday night. The Escanaba Eskymos move cross-town to take on the St. Joe Trojans in Bonifas gymnasium.
A capacity crowd will pack the St. Joe gym to see both teams in their 1952-53 debuts. No reserved or advance sale seats are available for the game. The ticket office will open at 6 p. m.

The game here features a pair of last year's district champions. The Eskymos copped the B district crown at Menominee while St. Joe captured top honors in C district at Norway.
The game will mark the first appearance of Burt Gustafson at the helm of the Escanaba quint. He succeeds Steve Baltic who resigned after last season.

Packers Favored In Texas Clash Sunday

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The Green Bay Packers, playing the role of "big favorite" for the first time this season, go after their fourth straight National Football League victory against the winless Dallas Texans at City stadium Sunday afternoon.
A crowd of nearly 20,000 persons is expected, with good weather, and the kickoff is set for 1 (CST)—a half hour earlier than usual because of early darkness.
The Packers, currently riding in a second place tie with the Los Angeles Rams in the National conference, will be going after their sixth victory of the 1952 campaign. The Packers and Rams (5-3) are one game behind Detroit and San Francisco, with 6-2 apiece. In other key games Sunday, Detroit plays the Chicago Bears and Los Angeles tackles San Francisco.

straight this year—21 to 14 to the Cleveland Browns in a non-conference game, 24-14 to the Chicago Bears and 52-17 to Detroit.
Packer head coach Gene Ronzani and the Bay players have dedicated Sunday's Packer-Texas game to the fans of Green Bay and area who have produced sell-outs for two of the home battles this season. The game will be homecoming for scores of former Packers and it also has been designated as Tony Canadeo Day in honor of the veteran Packer halfback who will be playing his last home game.

Stress Offense
The Packers have been pounding offense all week in an effort to sharpen their scoring. The Giants held them to 17 points last Sunday and the Bay defense did the rest for a 17-3 victory, but the Packers came off with only 121 yards rushing and passing.
The Packers will place their offense in the hands of quarterbacks Tobin Rote and rookie Babe Parilli who passed for one touchdown and "sneaked" for the other in the Giant game.
The Texans will rely on quarterback Frank Tripucka and a host of other stars including George Taliaferro, Buddy Young, Rollie Tolia and the two former Packers, and Ray Pelfrey and tackle Chubby Grigg.

Spartans Have Letdown Feeling For Final Game

EAST LANSING (P)—Michigan State's football squad has the jitters and that weary let-down feeling this week.
But the betting is still that the nation's top-rated team will coast on momentum past Marquette for its 24th straight triumph and a second undefeated season.
There are several reasons for the doldrums at Michigan State this week.
There was the natural letdown after the strain of the 21-3 triumph over Notre Dame.

New Rapid River Cage Coach Assumes Duties

RAPID RIVER—Cage fortunes of the Rapid River Rockets are under the direction of a new coach this season. Keith Hinde, Northland College graduate last spring, succeeds Norman Slough as basketball coach here.

KEITH HINDE

Coach Hinde will make his debut Saturday night when the Rockets play host to the Powers-Spalding Tigers of Coach Irv Soederlund.
Hinde is a graduate of Ashland High School where he played football, basketball, baseball and track. In his senior year he was named all-state guard after Ashland had made the Wisconsin state championship tournament trip to Madison.

After graduation he served in the Army and played football at Fort Benning, Ga., and with the 11th Airborne team in Japan. He entered Northland College after discharge and played four years of varsity football, captaining the team as a senior. He also played a year of varsity basketball.
Three lettermen form the nucleus of the Rapid River cage team this season. Roger Brannstrom, Waldon Johnson and Victor Zar are letter-winners back from last year.
Up from the reserve team are Robert Hamilton, Jay Huff, James Johnson, Ray Johnson, Robert Olson and Peter Wolf in addition to eight freshman candidates.

The game will also be the first start of the season for Powers.

Michigan-Ohio Grid Games Always Rough

ANN ARBOR (P)—The season-ending games between Ohio and Michigan have a reputation for being real thrillers. And there's no reason to suspect Saturday's glory-laden contest at Columbus will be any exception.

A year ago, Michigan won a 7-0 decision in a tense battle that ended only after three passes were intercepted in five consecutive plays.
A man-sized blizzard figured in Michigan's 9-3 decision in 1950. And a second try for the point after touchdown enabled Ohio to gain a 7-7 tie in 1949. Michigan dominates the series with 32 victories to 12 defeats and four ties.
This year's battle could mean a Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl bid for Michigan or could bring Ohio a long sought victory over the Wolverines.
Both teams have won five of their eight games this season. Both are potentially powerful. Ohio is out of contention for the Big Ten title but Michigan is very much in the race. And whenever there's a chance to spoil Michigan's plans, the Bucks have enough incentive for a big effort.
The time for preparation is over. Michigan runs through light signal drills in an abbreviated practice here today, after which the 40-man travelling squad will board buses for Toledo, where the Wolverines will spend the night.
Saturday morning the gridgers entrain for Columbus with arrival slated just before the kickoff.

Detroit Lions Wary In Facing Chicago Sunday

By HARRY STAPLER

DETROIT (P)—"Any given team can beat any given team on any given day."
That's the line you get from publicity men in the National Football League when they're trying to drum up attendance.
That's the line being given out on this Sunday's game between the leading Detroit Lions and the fifth-place Chicago Bears of the league's western division.
With the Lions 12 point favorites to thump the drooping Bears, the Chicago publicity men are trying to crowd a few more fans into Wrigley Stadium.

It's Truth
To the publicity men, this "given day" stuff is a necessary weapon in their business.
But to pro coaches this "given day" stuff is no line—it's the truth.
"Any pro team can beat any other if the psychological conditions and breaks are right," said Coach Buddy Parker of the Lions. "That's why we're worrying about this game with the Bears."

The Lions haven't been as concerned about a game since they licked the Cleveland Browns nearly three weeks ago.
Parker obviously isn't speaking with the hopes of building up attendance, since the game will be played many miles from the Lions' own Briggs Stadium.

Sounds Warning
Assistant coach Russ Thomas, who scouted the Bears, sounded a warning, "the Bears have 12

Blames Fall-Off In Grid Fans To Televised Games

ALBION (P)—Athletic Director Dale Sprinkle of Albion College, football champion of the MIAA, says that he doesn't know what to blame for a fall-off in attendance at games this fall "but TV."
"Something hurt us," he said. "We had excellent weather and a championship team, our best in 12 years. Yet gate receipts dropped about 10 per cent."

However, five other MIAA directors said that televising of Saturday's "big game" had no effect at all in the past season.
Agreeing with Albion's Sprinkle with Alma's Lloyd Eaton, who said:

"Many average fans have their football appetites satisfied by TV. Their interest is turned toward the major college and pro teams, which means they drop us."
Bud Hinga of Hope reported attendance down, but said, "I don't blame television a bit. We just had a bad setup in our schedule."

Syracuse Wins Home Cage Tilts

(By The Associated Press)
The Syracuse Nationals couldn't be blamed if they expressed a desire to play all of their National Basketball Association games at home.
The Nats have won five of their eight games this season to tie the New York Knicks for the lead in the Eastern Division and all five have been on their home court. They made it No. 5 Thursday trouncing the Milwaukee Hawks, 82-73.
The Knicks kept pace with the Nats by downing the Indianapolis Olympians, 72-67, in the first part of a doubleheader at Philadelphia. Philadelphia's Warriors won the other half of the double bill 106-99 from the Baltimore Bullets as Neil Johnston scored 31 points.
High scoring performances by George Mikan and Vern Mikkelsen gave the Minneapolis Lakers an 89-81 decision over the Fort Wayne Pistons. Mikan tallied 32 points and Mikkelsen 31.

Scott Injured
The Lions put Clyde (Smack-over) Scott, a back, on the injured reserve list, yesterday and signed Stan Campbell, a rookie guard from Iowa State.
Scott suffers from a chronic shoulder ailment and suffered a leg injury last Sunday against the Texans. Since those put on the injured reserve list must remain there 30 days, Scott will not be eligible to play for the Lions again during the regular season.

Campbell has been working out with the Lions several days and will play against the Bears.
End Jim Doran did not dress for yesterday's practice and it is doubtful that he will be able to play Sunday. End Leon Hart and Halfback Doak Walker, however, took part in the workout and appeared sufficiently recovered from recent injuries to see action in Chicago.

Olson Flattens Lee Sala In 2

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Clever Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu was established today as the foremost contender for the world's middleweight title following his second round knockout Thursday night of hard-punching Lee Sala of Donora, Pa.

The 23-year-old ringman flattened the Pennsylvania boy for the full count with a right to the jaw. Sala had hit the canvas earlier in the same round for a nine-count. He went down that time from a right to the side of the face followed by a whizzing left hook to the chin.

Sala, a converted southpaw, is regarded as one of the hardest left hookers in the game. But he received a lesson in that kind of a blow from his opponent following a first round both men spent feeling each other out. They weighed in at an identical 163 pounds.

A near-capacity crowd at Winterland paid $27,056.
Olson, listed No. 1 contender in New York and Sala, No. 2, met for a possible title shot at Sugar Ray Robinson's championship.

Sugar Ray has left the ring temporarily to try his feet as a night club dancer. There have been some reports he would retire. If he decides to defend his title, Olson, with his new victory would appear to have the first claim for a chance at it.

Sport Shorties

The first radio broadcast of a Michigan State football game was in 1923 from a phone booth anchored atop Macklin Field Stadium.

Michigan State's first All-American was Nemo (Jerry) DePrato, halfback on the 1913-14 Spartans football teams.

Twenty-seven varsity and 14 freshman awards were given to participants in Spring sports at the University of Wyoming.

Change State Ruling On 19-Year-Old Athletes

GRAND RAPIDS (P)—The State High School Athletic Association is on record today as favoring a rule whereby any 19-year-old eligible for football could compete in any other high school sport.
The recommendation was made yesterday by the association to its policy-making council.
The decision came after the association turned down a proposal that the rule be changed back to the previous 20-year-old age limit for any high school athlete in any sport. The vote was 189 no and 51 yes.

Under the present rule, a boy who becomes 19 on or after Sept. 1 may compete in any sport where the first contest occurs between Sept. 1 and Jan. 1.

Under the present rule, a boy who becomes 19 on or after Sept. 1 may compete in a sport whose first contest occurs in September or October of the same year. He may not compete in that sport after Jan. 1 of the succeeding year.

A boy who becomes 19 on or after Nov. 1 may compete in any sport where the first contest occurs between Nov. 1 and April 1.

A boy who becomes 19 on or after March 1 may compete for the balance of the season in any sport where the first contest occurs between March 1 and June 1.

The rule change recommended would, in effect, permit any youth becoming 19 between Sept. 1 and Jan. 1 to compete in all sports, not just in the football and part of the basketball season.

Under the recommended change, however, any youth becoming 19 before Sept. 1 still would be barred from all high school sports in that and subsequent years, as is the case now.

Hoople Picks Upsets, Clings To Smearcase

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
All-Time Champion Upset Man
Haw! Down through the ages, who stands before you modestly as the greatest selector of football upsets ever to throw away his chalk?
Though I loathe to say it myself, that man is Major Hoople! That is the only logical assumption I can reach after giving you Notre Dame to defeat Oklahoma, a prognostication unmatched by any other forecaster the length and breadth of the land.
And who but Hoople, on the same Saturday, gave you Navy to topple mighty Duke? Also Pitt to beat Ohio State for the first time in many years—har-rumph!
If you'll recall, that was the week I used Prof. Angelo Smearcase's system of athletic redundancy as it is controlled by universal curvature.
I am clinging to that astute method again this week, but alas! it yields not a single upset, according to all my labored figures.
That is unless you regard Ohio State's victory over Michigan as an upset.

Wisconsin, of course, will win the Western Conference championship and go to the Rose Bowl. I'll have more on the Bowls later—watch for it.
Now go on with the forecast for Nov. 22:

Young Pitchers Voted Baseball's Best

Black, Byrd Top Rookies

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Black of Brooklyn and Harry Byrd of the Philadelphia A's, a pair of fine pitchers, were named Rookies of the Year today by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Black was an overwhelming choice in the National League with 19 votes from the 24-man committee that also placed him third in the most valuable player balloting.

Byrd, a late blooming hot shot, nosed out two catchers, Clint Courtney of the St. Louis Browns and Sam White of the Boston Red Sox in a three-man race. Byrd got nine votes, Courtney eight and White seven.

Pennant Key

The feats of Black are known because his relief work was largely responsible for the Dodger pennant. An also-ran in spring training, Black appeared in only six games up to June 1. Then he he started to work. At stretches, Manager Charley Dressen had the Negro ace working every day. He wound up with 56 games, a 15-4 won and lost record and a low earned run average of 2.15. That earned run mark was best in the league but it won't be recognized because he did not pitch 10 complete games or work at least 154 innings. He started only two games, one the last Saturday of the season as a tune-up for the World Series opener.

Hoyt Wilhelm, appearing in 71 games on relief for the New York

Giants, was second to Black with three votes. Wilhelm had a 15-3 record and his 2.43 earned run mark won the title. He didn't start once but he did work 159 innings, five over the minimum.

Groat Third

Dick Groat, Pittsburgh's shortstop from Duke University, tied for third with Ed Mathews, Boston's third baseman, with one vote each. Groat joined the Pirates from Duke June 16 and finished with .285 after a slow start. Mathews hit only .242 but he slammed 25 homers, three on Sept. 27 to set a record for a freshman.

The 1951 winners were Willie Mays of the Giants, now in service, and Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees.

Byrd made the big jump from Savannah of the South Atlantic League to the majors with great success. He finished with a 15-15 record, coming on strong in the late stages of the season. Thus the A's, with Byrd and Bobby Shantz, the most valuable player, cornered season honors in the American.

Catchers Close

The 27-year-old righthander from Darlington, S.C., pitched 15 complete games including three shutouts. On Sept. 7 he blanked the pennant-bound Yankees with one hit. During the month of September he lost 1-0 games to both New York and Cleveland. Still he didn't get his first starting chance until May 14.

Courtney and White gave him a real battle for the honors. Courtney, 25, moved up from Kansas City in the Yank-Browns trade that brought Jim McDonald to New York last November. The fiery bespectacled catcher climbed to .280 in early August and finished at .286.

White, 24, came up from Class A, like Byrd. He hit only .267 in Scranton, Pa., of the Eastern League last season but belted the ball at a .300 clip into mid-August. Although he fell off in the closing months he finished with .281 and 10 home runs.

Arrest 3 For Shining Deer

Three more hunters have discovered that headlighting deer in this area is a costly and disagreeable pastime when they get caught.

Bert Williams of Perkins and Glenn Shaver of Detroit pleaded guilty to charges of using an artificial light in an effort to take and kill deer and each paid $32.80.

Louis Hicks of Manistowish also pleaded guilty and was given the alternative of paying the $25 fine and costs or serving 20 days in jail and when he chose the latter he was committed to the county jail.

Conservation Officer Glenn Price, who made the arrests, said Hicks was involved in a game law violation last spring or early summer when he shot a doe bearing fawns.

Picks Ohio To Beat Michigan

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—There were 21 fumbles in the recent Purdue-Notre Dame game, there were 19 in the Notre Dame-Oklahoma contest, and there were almost as many in the Notre Dame-Michigan State game. But there were only 12 fumbles in last week's selections.

Thirty-nine picks were correct for an average of .765. So here come this week's selections. UCLA over Southern California: Paul Cameron is healthy and just now coming into his own at a time when the two Coast powers meet for the conference title and the Rose Bowl bid. Even the TV moguls knew this because back in August they picked this one as your home entertainment for Saturday afternoon.

Michigan State over Marquette: By a considerable edge.

Georgia Tech over Florida State: This was a tight fight it would be ruled "no contest."

Oklahoma over Nebraska: Bobby Reynolds has re-joined his Nebraska mates but it is doubtful if that is enough. The Sooners haven't lost a Big Seven Conference game since the baseball Yankees lost a World Series.

Tennessee over Kentucky: The question isn't can Kentucky win? Instead, it is can Kentucky score?

Maryland over Alabama: Alabama to feel the full fury of Maryland's anger over that upset loss to Mississippi last Saturday.

Notre Dame over Iowa: The last two meetings of these two rivals ended in ties and don't be surprised if this one does also.

Ohio State over Michigan: There is just a flicker of unrest among the Ohio State alumni. A victory over Michigan would halt it.

Wisconsin over Minnesota: They have taken the snaffles off Alan (The Horse) Ameche.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

San Francisco—Carl "Bobo" Olson, 163, Honolulu, knocked out Lee Sala, 163, Donora, Pa., 2.
Hollywood, Calif.—Art Aragon, 146, Los Angeles, stopped Bob Terrance, 148, Los Angeles, 10.
Edmonton, Alb.—Harold "Baby Face" Jones, 137, Detroit, outpointed George Dunn, 134, Edmonton, 10.
Waterville, Me.—Claude Fortin, 140, Montreal, outpointed Willy Mays, 135, Boston, 8.

State Prep Grid Teams Near End Of 1952 Run

(By The Associated Press)

Football trickles out of the high school picture in Michigan in the next seven days.

Class A teams will play only three games this weekend and four more traditional games Thanksgiving Day.

Of the seven, only one game has championship bearing. That one is tonight's Friday clash at Briggs Stadium for the Detroit city championship.

U. of Detroit High, the Metropolitan League champion, and Redford St. Mary, the Parochial champion, will collide. They are both unbeaten and untied.

Redford St. Mary boasts a 17-game winning streak.

In other games tonight, Midland

Rookie Of Year Is Surprised At Honor

DARLINGTON, S. C. (AP)—The American League's "Rookie of the Year," Philadelphia Athletics pitcher Harry Byrd, expressed surprise today when informed of the honor that had come to him.

"Is that so? I would have thought several others would have won over me," was his reaction to the news.

Byrd likes to hunt and fish in the off-season. He lives in a modest apartment on the outskirts of Darlington with his wife, Mary Lee, and their 3-year-old daughter, Pam.

His Darlington friends didn't wait for him to be officially tabbed as "Rookie of the Year." They tossed him a party last month and presented him a shotgun.

Paul Dekker, Michigan State end from Muskegon, Mich., is an agriculture major and an advanced ROTC student in the military police branch.

College Football Reaches Fever Pitch On Saturday

By Sheldon Sakowitz

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1952 college football season, gaining momentum with each succeeding week, reaches a fervent pitch tomorrow as top teams collide in "do or die" efforts and "traditional" affairs.

Most of the attention will evolve around those still in contention for a bid to the granddaddy of all post-season classics—the Rose Bowl. After Saturday the situation in both the Pacific Coast and the Big 10 Conference races should be clarified considerably.

The eyes of the nation will be centered on Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum. There a pair of undefeated grid titans, UCLA and Southern California, clash head-on in a game that will determine the far western representative in the Rose Bowl.

Expect 100,000 Fans
More than 100,000 spectators will jam the coliseum to witness the fray while fans around the country also will be able to view the contest from their TV sets starting at 4:45 p. m., EST.

This is the national television game of the week and for the third Saturday in a row the stay-at-home will be blessed with a top-ranking game.

UCLA, rated third in the AP poll, and Southern California, the country's fourth-ranking team, both boast identical 8-9 records. The game appears to be a toss-up with Southern California's reserve strength giving the Trojans a very slight edge.

A low-scoring game is anticipated with the team that scores first rated a good chance of capturing the verdict and the Rose Bowl bid that goes with it.

Three key contests are on the agenda in the Big 10 race.

Big Ten Tie
Michigan and Wisconsin are tied for the Western Conference lead with identical 4-1 records. Purdue and Minnesota share second place at 3-1-1.

Michigan plays at Ohio State. Wisconsin is host to Minnesota and Purdue entertains Indiana—and anything can happen.

Michigan and Wisconsin, if they both win, could tie for the championship, and a conference committee would have to determine the bowl candidate. If either Michigan or Wisconsin loses, the survivor winds up with the trip to Pasadena.

If Michigan and Wisconsin both lose, then Purdue and Minnesota would have a chance to tie for the title. Ties in any of the games also could cause some more confusion in the jumbled standings.

The Sugar Bowl and Cotton Bowl both have picked their choices for New Year's Day, but the Orange Bowl has not yet made any definite commitments. Alabama, Pittsburgh and Syracuse all are possibilities for the Miami juncet and the three teams see action Saturday.

Alabama will be facing a vengeful Maryland outfit which was knocked out of the ranks of the unbeaten last week by Mississippi, 21-14. If the Crimson Tide can halt the Terrapins, it could gain the bid.

Syracuse, which didn't exactly look impressive in last Saturday's 20-14 triumph over Colgate, shouldn't experience too much difficulty in bowling over Fordham. Pitt may have a little more trouble in disposing of Penn State when the teams meet in the 52nd renewal of their rivalry.

Stubborn Last Year
Michigan State, top-ranking team in the nation, goes after its 24th straight victory against Marquette. Last season Marquette proved a stubborn foe before succumbing 20-14.

Georgia Tech, the No. 2 team which opposes Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl, should maintain its unblemished slate against Florida State. Mississippi is idle.

Tennessee, second to Georgia Tech in the Southeastern Conference, can tie the Engineers provided they get past Kentucky. The Volunteers, seventh-ranking in the country, play Texas, No. 10, in the Cotton Bowl. Texas, the South-west Conference winner, isn't scheduled.

Duke appears a cinch for top honors in the Southern Conference if the Blue Devils can turn back a weak North Carolina eleven.

Final Big 10 Answers To Be Known Saturday

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—These questions that have burned through the Big Ten from the season's start will be answered Saturday.

"Who's going to win the football title? Who's going to be the Rose Bowl?"

Although four teams—Michigan, Wisconsin, Purdue and Minnesota—are bunched contenders in the conference's wildest wind-up, the first two rate the best chances.

This is the third successive year that the championship has carried to the final Saturday for decision. But never before has more than four teams had a chance.

Late Losers
Wisconsin, loser of the crown on the final Saturday for the last two years, will cinch at least a share of it by defeating Minnesota. Michigan will be the other co-champion by downing Ohio State.

Both the Badgers, who have failed to win or share the title since 1912, and the Wolverines enter the finale with four victories against one defeat. Minnesota and Purdue each have three triumphs, one loss and one tie.

Wisconsin is rated a two-touchdown favorite to turn back the Giel-guided Gophers at Madison, Wis. Michigan is a touchdown choice over the Buckeyes at Columbus, O.

If Wisconsin and Michigan tie for the title, the Rose Bowl representative will be selected by majority vote of Big Ten athletic directors.

Wisconsin has never made the Pasadena trip while Michigan has gone twice. This may sway the electors who are asked only to choose "the most representative team."

Coast Finale
U. C. L. A. and Southern California will collide Saturday at Los Angeles. The winner will be the Pacific Coast Conference Rose Bowl entry.

U. C. L. A. defeated Wisconsin at Madison a month ago 20-7. If the Uclans make the bowl, a Big Ten decision between Wisconsin and Michigan would be more difficult.

Results of the Big Ten vote will be announced at noon CST Monday. If there is an undisputed champion, the poll will be a mere formality.

In other games Saturday, Indiana is at Purdue, Northwestern at Illinois, Notre Dame at Iowa and Michigan State at Marquette.

Wolves Menace Polish Farms

By ALFRED CHLAPOWSKI
WARSAW — Wolves are becoming an increasing menace in Poland's forest areas, where villagers and isolated peasants live in fear for their livestock and even their lives from these wild marauders.

Since the end of the war the wolves have increased in number and boldness in the vast forests of the Carpathian Mountains in the Southeast and the Masuria district of lakes and forest in Northeast Poland near the border with the Soviet Union.

In the Masuria district wolves attack watchdogs a few yards from home and raid livestock in farmyards. Farmers who have wandered too far into the forests unarmed have been killed.

Shepherds have been forced to bring their flocks of sheep closer to human habitation.

Authorities are organizing shooting parties and paying cash prizes for all wolves killed in an effort to combat the wild menace.

Kremlin Puts Curse On Cussin' Comrades

By ALBERT PARRY

NEW YORK —(NEA)—Profanity is the newly discovered plague and enemy of the Soviet Union. Foul words fill the pure Russian air, and this won't do. No, comrades and citizens, it's just too, too uncultured. So says the Moscow press in accents shocked and angry. The Kremlin's latest campaign against its subjects' vile language was opened in "Literaturnaya Gazeta" by Feodor Gladkov, a Soviet novelist. He denounced Russian profanity as "an infection" and shuddered at its amazing spread in the USSR thusly:

"Not drunken people alone, but sober ones, too, and especially our young, exercise in this... everywhere and under all circumstances... men of toil, the youths who have studied and who are readers of books."

"Perhaps this profanity is but surface bravado or a bad habit, but it is common, and people do not see its shame."

Teen-agers hanging around the entrances to Soviet movie houses disgraced Comrade Gladkov as he recognized in them veritable "masters" of the crudest profanity imaginable. He wrote: "I once tried to appeal to these lads' conscience, but their reply was a barrage of arrogant curses. They bombarded me with the most startling swear-words. A policeman stood nearby, but he merely shook his head in disapproval."

Moreover, Gladkov continued: Open, loud-mouthed, evil-tongued profanity, unrestrained by the presence of women and children, "can be heard from people of all stations in life, of all ages and both sexes... in offices and factories, in stores, theaters, street-cars and railroad stations."

At once, sympathetic readers of Gladkov's complaint rushed with letters to "Literaturnaya Gazeta" listing these examples of high-voltage profanity which they had encountered in their parts of Russia:

Volley-ball players at a public game: "They played masterfully, but just as 'masterfully' they velled out unprintable words at one another, as interjections and interpolations, out of habit."

The driver of a kolkhoz vehicle, who goodnaturedly explained to his passenger: "If you don't curse at a horse with the dirtiest words you know he won't run at all. He is used to this."

The chief of an important department in the Ural nickel works, who asked a newly arrived engineer: "But can you cuss profanely?" The implication being that if the new engineer could not, his authority would not be heeded by the workers.

The Moscow "Krokodil" supplied a case out of its own mail: At Buturlinovka in the Voronezh region an official of the House of Culture has such a mean disposition that "he curses visitors to the House most unprintably." Not a cultured comrade he!

By way of analysis, "Literaturnaya Gazeta" branded this "uncultured phenomenon" of foul swearing as "a vestige of the past," that is, of tsarist times.

It is true that years back, in pre-revolutionary Russia, profanity provided one of the first and most striking impressions of any foreign guest just beginning to make his way in the Russian language. But before the revolution it was mainly the lower classes of Russia that went in for this practice.

Today, however, in the Soviet Union, the use of foul words has spread to all classes. It is held by no such restraints as it was formerly. Worst of all, it does not seem to shock many of even those who do not practice it.

How to explain all this regression?

A Moscow housewife wrote to Gladkov that, on asking her college sophomore son why he and his friends swore so much and so vilely, she had heard this reply: "Mother, you reflect your intellectual inhibitions. Already when I was in high school, those kids who didn't use such words were called sissy intellectuals."

The Kremlin tells people to stop cursing. Yet, the official language of the Soviet government itself is far from polite, especially when it is addressed to other governments and nations. The Soviet press, slavishly echoing the Kremlin, lets go with all the printable curses possible when it talks about the West.

Price Controls Taken Off All Soft Drinks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has lifted price controls on all bottled soft drinks.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said however, the controls would be restored if the suspension leads to a general increase above the existing price ceilings.

The agency said it is relying on intense competition and volume production in the industry to help hold prices down.

OPS said almost all soft drinks have been selling below ceilings.
